enforce a remedy months ago. We submit to that official, and to the people whose money he draws and whom he professes to serve, if it is not about time for the use of a little compulsion for a par tial clearing up of the street and for the laying of a pavement on the 14th street front of the new Opera House. This street and sidewalk have been obstructed now just about one year—quite long enough all will agree unless there is ur-fill the street and gutter, and their work need not hinder the laying down of a pavement, the proper repair of the crossing at the mouth of the alley, nor the paving of the alley, which is more used by drays and wagons than any in the city and is now next to impassable. We beg the atby way of this street, and we submi
